

Katie Stell, NASM CPT

Master Trainer Katie Stell has a passion for helping people reach their goals, whether it is to achieve greater muscle definition or to live a pain free life. Katie works with a wide range of clients from the highly athletic to people seeking relief from shoulder, knee, elbow or back pain. Katie's experience includes work as a personal trainer at New York Sports Club. She is certified through the National Academy of Sports Medicine.